Safety Recall Campaign for Front Passenger Seat Occupant Classification System

Affected Models: Certain 2006 - 2013 Suzuki Grand Vitara (JB627 / JB632W / JB424W)
Certain 2010 - 2013 Suzuki Kizashi vehicles (A6B424)

Affected Departments: Management, Service, Warranty, Parts

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Suzuki Motor Corporation has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in certain 2006 - 2013 Suzuki Grand Vitara and 2010 - 2013 Suzuki Kizashi vehicles equipped with leather seats.

What is the problem?

The natural leather seating surface of the front passenger seat may shrink. This condition can impose a modest pressure on the occupant classification system (OCS) sensor mat contained within the passenger seat bottom cushion. This can cause the OCS to judge that there is a child in the seat when the seat is vacant. Or it can cause the OCS to judge that there is an adult in the seat when the seat is occupied by a child. In the event of a crash necessitating airbag deployment, an incorrect classification can cause the air bag to deploy, even with a child in the front passenger seat, increasing the risk of injury to the child.

Affected Models:

Certain 2006 - 2013 Grand Vitara (JB627 / JB632W / JB424W) and Certain 2010 - 2013 Kizashi vehicles (A6B424)

What is Suzuki doing to solve the problem?

Suzuki will replace the passenger seat bottom cushion of affected vehicles. The replacement seat bottom cushion has an insert of synthetic leather on the seating surface which allows the occupant classification system (OCS) to accurately determine the occupant status of the passenger seat.

Replacement parts are estimated to be available late in the fourth quarter of 2019. Suzuki will notify Suzuki Service Providers when parts are available for shipment.

In the meantime, if a customer brings an affected 2006 - 2013 Grand Vitara or 2010 - 2013 Kizashi to your shop with a concern that the OCS may not be correctly classifying occupants, please contact Tech-Line at (800) 934-1616 for further instructions.

What is the problem?

The natural leather seating surface of the front passenger seat may shrink. This can cause the OCS to judge that there is a child in the seat when the seat is vacant. Or it can cause the OCS to judge that there is an adult in the seat when the seat is occupied by a child. In the event of a crash necessitating airbag deployment, an incorrect classification can cause the air bag to deploy, even with a child in the front passenger seat, increasing the risk of injury to the child.

What is Suzuki Motor of America, Inc. (Suzuki) doing to solve the problem?

Suzuki will replace the passenger seat bottom cushion of affected vehicles. The replacement seat bottom cushion has an insert of synthetic leather on the seating surface which allows the occupant classification system (OCS) to accurately determine the occupant status of the passenger seat.

Replacement parts are estimated to be available late in the fourth quarter of 2019. Suzuki will mail you a second notification letter when the repair procedure and parts are available.

This safety recall repair will be performed by a Suzuki Service Provider at no cost to you for parts and labor.
