March 16, 2019

Dear BraunAbility Dealer,

BraunAbility is taking the necessary steps to initiate a voluntary recall on the 2018 and 2019 Honda in-floor wheelchair accessible vehicles. Until the necessary steps are taken to file the recall notice with NHTSA, we are proactively communicating this information to you. This notification is to inform you to take the necessary steps to stop the sale of the Honda's you may have in inventory.

Concern: The rear wheel speed sensor harness may be connected to the wrong rear wheel speed sensor and cause a sudden deceleration of the vehicle during sharp turns.

Correction: Inspection and correction instructions will be communicated to you by Wednesday March 20th, 2019.

In the coming days and weeks, further communication about this voluntary recall will be communicated to you as part of the NHTSA reporting process.

Please know that safety and reliability of our products are of paramount importance to BraunAbility and by taking this proactive measure we hope it demonstrates our commitment to you and those customers we serve.

Sincerely,
