Dear General Motors Customer:

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

General Motors has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain 2003-2004 model year Pontiac Vibe vehicles. As a result, GM is conducting a safety recall. We apologize for this inconvenience. However, we are concerned about your safety and continued satisfaction with our products.

IMPORTANT <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Your vehicle is involved in GM safety recall N192278940. • Schedule an appointment with your GM dealer. • This service will be performed for you at no charge.

Why is your vehicle being recalled?

Your vehicle may have received a replacement front-passenger airbag module that is the subject of Toyota recall 19V-627, which covered certain 2005-2008 model year Pontiac Vibe vehicles. Toyota’s Part 573 report for 19V-627 states, in part:

“There is a possibility that the air bag may not unfold as designed during inflation under high temperature conditions, resulting in air bag internal pressure rising differently than expected. Under such conditions, a portion of the air bag material could be torn during deployment, or the bag plate (which mounts the air bag to the air bag assembly case) could be damaged. In either instance, such damage during deployment could cause the air bag not to properly inflate, and this could increase the risk of occupant injury in the event of a crash.”

What will we do?

Your GM dealer will inspect the passenger air bag module and replace if necessary. This service will be performed for you at no charge. Because of service scheduling requirements, it is likely that your dealer will need your vehicle longer than the actual inspection and service correction time of approximately one hour.

What should you do?

You should contact your GM dealer to arrange a service appointment as soon as possible.
