Subject: Safety Recall 46i7 – Brake Pedal

Dear Audi Owner,

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. Audi has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain 2020 model year Audi Q3 vehicles. Our records show that you are the owner of a vehicle affected by this action.

Audi of America, Inc.

What is the issue? The brake pedal may not have been manufactured according to the required specifications. In unfavorable conditions, the brake pedal plate may deform in case of an emergency brake situation with full impact loading onto the brake pedal and full detachment of the brake pedal plate cannot be completely ruled out. If the brake pedal plate detaches, the driver would still be able to operate the brake pedal, however the contact area for the driver's foot would be reduced in size, increasing the risk of a crash.

What will we do? To correct this defect, your authorized Audi dealer will inspect for a correct weld at the joint connection between the brake pedal and the brake pedal plate. If the weld is insufficient, the entire brake pedal will be replaced. The inspection will take about half an hour, and brake pedal replacement (if needed) will take about an hour to complete. Both the inspection and replacement (if needed) will be performed for you free of charge. Please keep in mind that your dealer may need additional time for the preparation of the repair, as well as to accommodate their daily workshop schedule.

What should you do? Please contact your authorized Audi dealer without delay to schedule this recall repair. For your convenience, you can also visit www.audiusa.com and click on the "Find a Dealer" link to locate a dealer near you and schedule this service.
