Subject: Safety Recall 97EV – Engine Control Module (ECM) Connector

Dear Audi Owner,

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. Audi has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain 2019-2021 model year Audi vehicles. Our records show that you are the owner of a vehicle affected by this action.

Audi of America, Inc.

What is the issue? Due to a deviation in the manufacturing process of the wiring harness supplier, a sealing pin may be missing in one of the engine control unit connectors. Moisture may enter the connector of the engine control module due to a missing sealing pin. This may cause malfunctions accompanied by illumination of the Malfunction Indicator Lamp (MIL) and the engine may go into fail-safe mode with restricted RPM. It cannot completely be ruled out that the engine may stop while driving. If the engine stops while the vehicle is in motion especially at higher speeds, this may increase the risk of a crash.

What will we do? To correct this defect, your authorized Audi dealer will check the connector on the engine control unit to see if the sealing pin is present. If missing, the pin will be installed. The connector will also be checked for possibly existing corrosion and - if necessary - the affected connections will be replaced. This work will take about two hours to complete and will be performed for you free of charge. Please keep in mind that your dealer may need additional time for the preparation of the repair, as well as to accommodate their daily workshop schedule.

What should you do? Please contact your authorized Audi dealer without delay to schedule this recall repair. For your convenience, you can also visit www.audiusa.com and click on the "Find a Dealer" link to locate a dealer near you and schedule this service.
