Dear Valued Retailer,

Dorel Juvenile Group, Inc. in the U.S.A. (Dorel Juvenile) has decided that all Safety 1st onBoard 35 SecureTech and Maxi-Cosi Coral XP, Mico XP, Mico XP Max, and Mico Luxe+ rear facing infant car seats and Maxi-Cosi Infant Car Seat Base models with self-retracting lower anchor systems fail to conform to the requirements of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) No. 213 "Child Restraint Systems". Because the models can fail S5.1.1(a) of FMVSS No. 213, they may not maintain secure installation in the vehicle during a crash increasing the risk of injury to the child restraint occupant. There have been no injuries reported related to this noncompliance.

Some recalled models were purchased together with a stroller as part of a Travel System, including Maxi-Cosi Gia XP, Zelia² Max, Tayla, Adorra, Tayla XP and Mara XT Travel System using the below model numbers.

Dorel Juvenile is currently working with NHTSA on the timing of the recall as well as the remedy to consumers. Model names and model numbers impacted by this recall are:
