3. Total Number of Vehicles Involved:

Total : 21

4. Percentage of Vehicles Estimated to Actually Experience Noncompliance:

100%

5. Description of Noncompliance:

In the subject vehicles, there is a possibility that an incorrect specification driver or front passenger airbag assembly was installed during the vehicle assembly process. This could result in an airbag deployment in a manner other than as designed in the event of a crash which would cause the airbags to deploy. As a result, some requirements of FMVSS No. 208 may not be met, resulting in an increased risk of injury during a crash.

6. Test Results and Other Information:

On February 17, 2017, Toyota filed a Foreign Recall Report concerning a recall in Japan covering certain Toyota Corolla Rumion vehicles which may have received an incorrect specification airbag at the production plant. Subsequently, Toyota checked records of airbags installed in other vehicles produced after 2002. As a result, Toyota discovered that incorrect specification driver or front passenger airbag assemblies may have been installed in 21 vehicles of the above mentioned models in the U.S. market. After considering the differences between the correct and incorrect specification airbags, Toyota decided on August 25, 2017, that it is possible that vehicles with an incorrect specification airbag may not meet some of requirements of FMVSS No. 208.

7. Description of Corrective Repair Action:

All known owners of the subject vehicles will be notified by first class mail to return their vehicles to a Toyota or Lexus dealer. The dealers will replace the airbag assembly with a correct one at no cost.

Reimbursement Plan for pre-notification remedies

The owner letter will instruct vehicle owners who have paid to have this condition remedied prior to this campaign to seek reimbursement pursuant to Toyota's or Lexus's General Reimbursement Plan.
