Notes, Remote Vehicle Setup added; feature enhancements

We've been busy.

Notes lets you draw or take notes on your vehicle touchscreen. Your writings and artistic masterpieces can be saved. Notes includes a handy calculator and a tic-tac-toe board to kill time while waiting for that curbside takeout.

Our new Remote Vehicle Setup lets you use FordPass™ or the owner's site to set up profile preferences, including all your radio presets. It's all stored in the cloud and sent to your Mustang Mach-E through the SYNC® 4A system.

Navigation automatically makes helpful destination suggestions (but you can turn that off if you like), plus new cloud connectivity combines conversational voice command recognition with internet-based search, so you get the latest info with almost every request.

Apple CarPlay® compatibility displays on-screen turn-by-turn navigation in your instrument cluster.

Finally, the user-profile icons on your SiriusXM® with 360L radio will be a bit bigger, and there were a couple of bug fixes.

Whew.

Ongoing updates like these help ensure that you're always driving the best possible version of your Mustang Mach-E. Keep in mind that update availability varies by model.
